TO: WHOME IT MAY BE CONCERN.

My husband, Pat and myself, and our business partners, Doug and Chris Farmilo who owned Hilton Warman in West Dubbo were long term customers of CBM Computers.

Both prior to this time and since the business closed, I have personally purchased my computer equipment from CBM Computers and advised friends to do likewise.

This is not a business that sees the customer walk out of the shop with their new computer under their arm, left to work the setup out for themselves.

CBM is the perfect place to go for advice, knowing that advice given will be appropriate to the client's needs, computer skills and knowledge. CBM offers and delivers a personal service, particularly important to the older, not so savvy generation of computer users.

All done in a prompt and courteous manner.

So many small businesses are being pushed to the wall by multi-national corporations who undercut prices of the small operator. The small business proprietor may charge a little more, but, in return provides an excellent service to their clients.

Nasser and his team at CBM Computers, are well-known in Dubbo for their community service and contribution to the city. They think locally and support all things "Dubbo".

It is up to every one in regional towns to support the small operator. Keep them in business, and especially appreciate the contribution they are making to their community.

I have no hesitation in recommending CBM Computers for any business dealing and professional service and support.

With regards
